Marie P. DeBartolo Sports Centre

In loving memory of his mother, Marie P. DeBartolo, San Francisco 49ers' Owner-President Edward J. DeBartolo, Jr., will dedicate the team's new training facility and office complex in August, 1988.

Situated on an 11-acre site in Santa Clara, CA (approximately 40 miles south of Candlestick Park), the complex will provide players, coaches, and staff members with all the necessary components for daily practices, weekly game preparations, and general overall operations in one functional, state of the art, setting.

From its master blueprint to the smallest of details, the new facility exemplifies DeBartolo's strive for perfection, and his drive for superiority. It also reflects his dedication to the organization and his first class standard for operating procedures.

Two natural grass practice fields, with underground drainage and watering systems, allow for workouts in all Northern California weather conditions. Additionally, a full-size Omniturf (artificial turf) field features an innovative fiber-and-sand surface design which minimizes player injury.

A two-story, 52,000 square-foot building (more than three times the space the 49ers' had in their Redwood City facility) houses all offices and facilities (except the ticket and luxury suite operations, which will remain at Candlestick Park). Located upstairs at the new facility are offices for: coaches, administration, video operations, business operations, public relations, pro scouting, college scouting, and marketing/promotions.

The ground floor contains a spacious dressing room area with 60 permanent lockers, and allocations for extra (portable) lockers to be used during mini-camps when squad sizes are larger.

Off the locker room is a "players only" lounge for relaxing between meetings or practices. And, in an adjacent building are two racquetball courts for players, coaches, and staff recreation. The coaches and front office staff will also have separate locker rooms.

A well-equipped weight room and training area downstairs will accommodate both preventative and rehabilitative conditioning. A 30-foot by 40-foot hydro-therapy indoor swimming pool will also be available.

Also located downstairs are numerous meeting rooms - each featuring a video cassette projector (allowing players and coaches the opportunity to analyze previous games and that day's practice sessions, or to preview an upcoming opponent).

Media facilities include a sizable workroom, along side a large (120-seat) auditorium and conference room (wired for live television broadcasts from the site), making the new set-up ideally suited for weekly press conference coverage, and daily reporting duties. Located just outside the media workroom is a picnic area which can be used on warm, sunny days for press luncheons.

Edward J. DeBartolo, Jr. — OWNER-PRESIDENT

Entering his 12th season as owner of the San Francisco 49ers, Edward J. DeBartolo, Jr., has added the responsibilities of club president in 1988.

One of the youngest owners in the NFL, Eddie (as he is known to friends and 49ers' family) is also among the most respected and successful owners in recent League history.

DeBartolo purchased a struggling franchise in 1977, and has molded it into a perennial playoff contender. Since 1981, the Niners have won 81 games (counting postseason) . . . an average of 11 per year, and have reached the playoffs six times. With 96 wins to his credit already, he is looking for 49ers' career victory No. 100 in 1988.

Additionally, San Francisco is the only NFL team to qualify for the playoffs each of the past five seasons . . . and is one of only two teams (along with Washington) to win 10-or-more games in each of the last five NFL regular seasons: 1983 (10-6), 1984 (15-1), 1985 (10-6), 1986 (10-5-1), and 1987 (13-2).

As president and chief executive officer of the 49ers, DeBartolo's professional responsibilities only begin with the San Francisco football franchise, since he is also president and chief administrative officer of The Edward J. DeBartolo Corporation.

Although each title represents a facet of his career as separate as the two offices are distant (California and Ohio), DeBartolo's style and savvy have earned him continued success in both arenas.

As Forty Niners' owner and president, Eddie's primary function is to provide administrative leadership, financial guidance, and emotional support to his players, coaches, and staff. When he purchased 90 percent interest in the franchise from the Morabito family in 1977, he promised "unbending patience."

And he proved true to his word as his patience held through the transition seasons of 1977-80. Keeping the faith has paid off to the tune of world championships in 1981 and '84; NFC West crowns in 1981, '83, '84, '86, and '87.

As president and chief administrative officer of the DeBartolo Corporation, Mr. DeBartolo, Jr., oversees the operation and growth of one of the country's top real estate development and management firms. Founded in 1948 by his father, Edward J. DeBartolo (chairman and chief executive officer of the firm), the DeBartolo Corporation is one of America's greatest business success stories.

During the past four decades, the DeBartolo Corporation has developed over 70 million square feet of prime retail space across the country. The firm operates over 64 million square feet - making it the nation's largest developer and manager of shopping malls. Office towers, mixed-use projects, hotels, and professional sports enterprises are also among DeBartolo Corporation holdings nationwide.

Following graduation from Notre Dame in 1968, DeBartolo began an executive training program which gave him valuable experience in each of the Corporation's departments. He was appointed vice president in 1971 and became executive vice president five years later. In '79, he assumed his current position and responsibility for the Corporation's 14,000 professionals nationwide.

DeBartolo has also actively supported charitable institutions. He has given generously of his time and influence to help St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital, the Heart Fund, Cancer Crusade, the United Way, the ALS Research Foundation, and numerous other worthwhile organizations.

He received the 1982 Salvation Army Citation of Merit in recognition of his humanitarian efforts. The organization's highest honor, the award had previously been presented to such notables as Dwight D. Eisenhower, William Randolph Hearst, and Cecil B. DeMille. At 35, DeBartolo was the youngest Salvation Army honoree in history.

In 1985, DeBartolo was hailed by the Boys' Town of Italy as its Man-of-the-Year for his support of that organization (which aids homeless and needy children). He was also the 1985 recipient of the prestigious Warner Award, the highest national individual honor given by the Pop Warner (youth) Football Association.

DeBartolo was national chairman for the 19th Annual Victor Awards in 1985 (sponsored by the Sportsmen's Club For The City of Hope) and served as national chairman for The City of Hope's 1986 "Spirit of Life Award" banquet.

In June, the San Francisco Convention & Visitors Bureau bestowed upon DeBartolo the 1988 Silver Cable Car Award for his "extraordinary contributions to San Francisco and its visitor industry."

Born and raised in Youngstown, OH, Eddie has actively supported that city's organizations, as well. For example, he has served as director of the Youngstown Youth Center, and as a member of the Youngstown State University Board of Trustees.

Eddie is married to his childhood sweetheart, the former Cynthia Papalia, who prefers the nickname Candy. They have three daughters: Lisa Marie, Tiffanie Lynne, and Nicole Anne.

Bill Walsh: HEAD COACH

Bill Walsh enters his tenth year at the helm of the San Francisco 49ers. His tenure is the longest of any coach in team history, exceeding the nine-year incumbency of Lawrence T. "Buck" Shaw.

Under Walsh's leadership, the organization has experienced heights of victory never reached prior to his arrival in 1979. He has led his team to two world championships and five NFC Western Division titles. His charges have compiled the best NFL regular season won-loss record in three of the last seven seasons, including last year's League-best 13-2 mark.

Many NFL observers felt that Walsh displayed his optimal coaching skill during the '87 season. The team opened with a defeat in Pittsburgh, and was on the verge of a second consecutive loss at Cincinnati, when a miraculous turn of events snatched victory from defeat against the Bengals. From that point, Walsh rallied his team to 12 victories over the next 13 weeks, including decisive wins against powerhouses Cleveland and Chicago.

In 1987, Walsh continued to display an uncanny ability to infuse new talent into his veteran cast of characters, while sustaining the high standard for success that has become his trademark. During Weeks 8-9 of the '87 season, Walsh made seven changes on offense (five in the offense line). Injuries forced additional changes in the defensive line and linebacking corps. Still the squad marched to its fifth consecutive postseason appearance, the longest current streak among NFL teams.

Walsh has built a strong winning tradition, surrounding himself with a skilled and well trained coaching staff which can recount his highly diversified systems. Further, he has displayed a keen ability to evaluate talent and get players that fit into his scheme, using every avenue available for player acquisition (draft, trade, free agency).

In nine seasons, he has completely remolded a struggling 1979 team into one of the premier franchises in the League. On his resume are wins in Super Bowl XVI (26-21 over Cincinnati) and Super Bowl XIX (38-16 over Miami), and he is a two-time NFL Coach-of-the-Year (1981 and 1984).

Since becoming the Oakland Raiders' backfield coach in 1966 under Al Davis, Walsh has gained a reputation for his creativity. In addition to developing the highly acclaimed Joe Montana, Walsh is generally given credit for the development of Cincinnati's Ken Anderson and San Diego's Dan Fouts. Anderson won two NFL passing titles under Walsh's tutelage in the late '60s and early '70s. In one season as offensive coordinator in San Diego (1976), Fouts says Walsh turned his career around. Walsh also developed two NCAA passing champions (Guy Benjamin and Steve Dils) at Stanford (1977-78), and his list of either Pro Bowl or All-America pass receivers includes Bob Trumpy, Eric Crabtree, Chip Myers, Isaac Curtis, Charlie Joiner, James Lofton, Ken Margerum, Jerry Rice, Dwight Clark, and Roger Craig (as a running back).

Walsh's first coaching experience came as a graduate assistant at San Jose State. As an undergraduate in the early '50s, he had played both ways at end for Coach Bob Bronzan. He entered high school coaching in the San Francisco East Bay area at Fremont's Washington Union High School in 1957. By his second season there, his team was 9-1 and conference champion. Prior to that, Washington Union had been 1-26.

Walsh began a long apprenticeship as an assistant coach in 1960, when he became defensive coordinator for Marv Levy at California. In 1963, he moved to Stanford as John Ralston's administrative assistant (recruiting coordinator) and defensive backfield coach. In 1966, Bill joined the Raiders. Then just over a year later, he became Paul Brown's quarterbacks and receivers coach.

Following eight seasons with the Bengals, Walsh joined Tommy Prothro for a year as offensive coordinator of the Chargers, then moved to Stanford in '77 as head coach. His two Stanford teams were 17-7 overall and captured bowl wins both seasons — the Bluebonnet and Sun Bowls.

Edward J. DeBartolo, Jr. hired Walsh as the 11th head coach in San Francisco Forty Niners' history, Jan. 9, 1979. Walsh took over a team that had gone 31-55 in the previous 86 games, an expansion-like team of talent that had finished 2-14 in 1978 and near the bottom of the League in nearly every offensive statistical category.

Bill was born Nov. 30, 1931, in Los Angeles. Following his sophomore year in high school, his parents moved to Oregon for one year, then moved to Hayward, CA., in the San Francisco East Bay area, where Bill finished high school.

Following graduation from Hayward High and two years at San Mateo Junior College, he enrolled at San Jose State, where he majored in education. He obtained his master's degree in 1959 and put in a two-year hitch in the U.S. Army.

A tennis enthusiast, Bill and his wife, Geri (an interior designer of note), have a daughter, Elizabeth, and two grown sons — Steve and Craig.

John E. McVay:

VICE PRESIDENT-GENERAL MANAGER

John McVay, who handles the bulk of the team's contract negotiations among his many other administrative responsibilities, is in his tenth year with the club, and his fifth as vice president-general manager.

McVay has been San Francisco's chief administrator since the conclusion of the 1981 season when he was appointed administrative vice president. McVay began his career with the 49ers in January of 1979 as the team's director of player personnel. He was promoted to director of football operations in 1980 and served in the administrative vice president's capacity until being named vice president and general manager in 1983.

All seven department heads (marketing, scouting, public relations, business, tickets, training, and equipment) report directly to McVay. John coordinates the movement of each department on the counsel of Walsh and team owner Edward J. DeBartolo, Jr. The three embody the major decision-making element of the organization.

A native of Bellaire, OH, and a product of the famous high school football town of Massillon, OH, McVay came to the 49ers after having served the New York Giants as head coach for two and one-half seasons (1976-78).

He had been hired by Giants' Owner Wellington Mara in 1975 as an assistant coach in charge of research and development, but was elevated to head coach in the middle of the '76 season when Bill Arnsparger was released. His won-lost record with the Giants was 14-23.

Prior to joining the Giants, McVay was the head coach and general manager of the Memphis Southmen of the World Football League, where his teams were 24-7 in the year and one-half that league existed. McVay had left the University of Dayton, where he was head football coach for nine years (1965-73), and athletic director in '72 and '73, to join the Southmen.

McVay excelled as a player before entering coaching and administrative work. He was an All-Ohio center as a Massillon schoolboy, and an All-Midwest selection and two-time team MVP as a center at Miami University in Oxford, OH, where he played for both Woody Hayes and Ara Parseghian. Because of John's lack of size, Hayes awarded McVay Miami's last available football scholarship his freshman year, and John went on to become a four-year regular for the Redskins. He captained the team as a senior, and today is a member of that school's athletic Hall of Fame.

McVay went from Miami to become one of its 60-plus "Cradle of Coaches" alumni who have been successful collegiate and professional football coaches and administrators throughout the U.S. and Canada.

His coaching career began with a three-year stint at Lancaster (OH) High School, and he moved to Franklin (OH) High for one year, before a five-year stay (41-7) at Canton (OH) Central Catholic High School. From the prep ranks he joined Duffy Daugherty's staff at Michigan State as an assistant in 1962 and stayed three years. From MSU, McVay took over the Dayton post, and led the Flyers to their first winning grid season in ten years when they finished 8-2 in 1966.

Jim McVay, one of John's three sons (John Jr., and Tim are the other two), is currently the Executive Director for college football's Hall of Fame Bowl in Tampa, FL.

John and his wife, Lee, also have a son (Rick Robinson) and four grandsons, and live in Belmont, CA.

Carmen A. Policy: VICE PRESIDENT-GENERAL COUNSEL

Carmen A. Policy begins his sixth year as vice president and general counsel for the San Francisco Forty Niners. He works closely with Owner-President Edward J. DeBartolo, Jr., Coach Bill Walsh, and Vice President-General Manager John McVay, relative to legal and business considerations that are involved in the day-to-day operation of the Club.

Policy also coordinates and handles many of the team's duties and dealings with the National Football League.

Carmen is a graduate of Georgetown University Law Center and is a member of the law firm of Flask & Policy, which is located in Youngstown, OH.

He has been a personal friend and attorney to Edward J. DeBartolo, Jr. for more than 20 years.

The Forty Niners have become his "first love" in terms of his professional life, and he is obviously quite proud to refer to himself as a member of the DeBartolo-Forty Niner family.

1988 COACHES AND STAFF

George Seifert — DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

George Seifert guided his defenders to the top of the rankings among NFL units in 1987. This feat marked the first time in Niners' history that the team has led the League in fewest total yards allowed.

George begins his ninth season of coaching in the NFL (the first three as San Francisco's secondary coach) following 15 years in the collegiate ranks.

After graduating from Utah (1963), Seifert served a six-month tour of duty with the U.S. Army. He returned to Utah as a graduate assistant coach in 1964. Then, in 1965, George was named head coach at Westminster College in Salt Lake City, UT.

Jerry Rice, San Francisco's record setting wide receiver, was selected by a vote of his teammates as the 1987 winner of the 49ers most prestigious annual honor . . . the Len Eshmont Award.

The Eshmont Award is given each year to the Niner who best exemplifies the "inspirational and courageous play" of Len Eshmont. A player from the original 1946 Forty Niners' team, Eshmont died in 1957.

Rice was chosen during a secret vote of his teammates as the 31st recipient of the award which was first given to quarterback Y.A. Tittle in 1957. Jerry was the first receiver to win the award since Dwight Clark in 1982.

For more information on Jerry Rice, see his bio elsewhere in this media guide. Following is a list of the Eshmont Award winners since its inception in 1957:

The 49ers' Historical Highlights

Here are the team's historical highlights beginning with its first year in the NFL:

1950 — The 49ers fell flat on their faces in their NFL debut, winning only three games. A rival coach described them as "not big enough or tough enough."

1951 — In an amazing reversal of form sparked by a great rookie group, the 49ers were in the race to the final day and finished only a half game off the top. Led by Hardy Brown and his famed "shoulder tackle" the club had one of the toughest defensive units in the league. Y.A. Tittle and Billy Wilson began their great careers.

1952 — After a blazing start, the 49ers slumped in mid-season. Hugh (The King) McElhenny came off the University of Washington campus to become "Player of the Year" and the most feared runner in football.

1953 — The 49ers had their best NFL showing, 9-3, normally good enough for a championship. Detroit, however, was 10-2. Two of the San Francisco losses came with Y.A. Tittle sidelined because of a severe facial injury. The three defeats were by a total of nine points. Joe (Jet) Perry became one of the few players in pro history to gain more than 1,000 yards in a single season. Gordy Soltau was the league's top scorer for the second straight year.

1954 — Early momentum was broken by injuries to key players such as Y.A. Tittle, Hugh McElhenny, and Joe Perry. Perry gained more than 1,000 yards again, the first man ever to achieve this distinction.

1955 — With Hugh McElhenny hobbled by a foot injury, the 49ers had their second worst season in history under Norman P. Strader who succeeded Buck Shaw as a head coach.

1956 — In Frankie Albert's first year at the helm, the 49ers were bogged in last place at mid-season with a 1-6 record. They won four and tied one of their last five games for a brilliant stretch drive.

1957 — This undoubtedly was one of the most emotional and dramatic seasons in 49ers history. Every game was a "Cliffhanger" and the "Alley-Oop" pass from Y.A. Tittle to rookie R.C. Owens became a household byword. Emotions reached a peak when the beloved Tony Morabito collapsed and died of a heart attack at the Chicago Bears game on Oct. 27. Trailing 17-7, the 49ers fought back for a great victory, 21-17. The magnificent Billy Wilson caught a pass from Tittle for the winning touchdown in the fourth quarter. Tied with Detroit at 8-4 when the season ended, the 49ers lost the playoff game, 31-27, although they held a 27-7 lead in the third quarter.

1958 — An up-and-down season which finished on a high note when Green Bay and Baltimore were defeated in the last two games. The 6-6 record, however, was blackened by the 33-3 and 56-7 lacerations at the hands of Los Angeles and Frankie Albert resigned at the end of the year.

1959 — With Howard W. (Red) Hickey in charge, the 49ers were in contention all the way and John Brodie came into his own at quarterback when he led the team to a 21-20 upset of Cleveland. J.D. Smith, converted from a defensive back, became the second 49er to accumulate more than 1,000 yards rushing.

1960 — Howard W. (Red) Hickey saved a seemingly hopeless season when he installed his Shotgun attack and the club captured four of the last five games to finish in a tie for second place. Third-string quarterback Bobby Waters threw the passes that upset Baltimore, 30-22, in the final two minutes.

1961 — The success of Howard W. Hickey's Shotgun amazed the football world, especially the 49-0 victory over Detroit. Quarterback Bill Kilmer, a passing-running rookie from UCLA, was made to order for the new offense. When the Shotgun was stopped, John Brodie took over again in the "T" and had the finest season in 49er QB annals. Indicating the evenness of NFL competition, the 49ers were playing for a second-place tie, plus a trip to the Runner-up Bowl at Miami, or a fifth-place position on the last day of the season. The Colts again won by three points, but 1961 must remain as one of the most exciting and interesting years in 49ers history.

1962 — For the first time since 1956, the 49ers finished a frustrating season with more defeats than victories. In so doing, the honored adage of "it's easier to win at home than on the road," proved false — the 49ers won only one of seven at home, but captured five of seven road contests.

1963 — Injuries in multitude to key personnel started the 49ers off to a disappointing 2-12 league season. One of the victories, however, was a smashing 20-14 upset of ultimate World Champion Chicago, the only league defeat suffered by the Bears all season.

1964 — Club chief executive Victor P. Morabito died of a heart attack in May. Injury to key personnel prevented the 49ers from gaining enough offensive momentum to forge a winning season although they proved to be one of the toughest defensive clubs in the league. Outstanding rookie performances by end Dave Parks, quarterback George Mira and linebacker Dave Wilcox also took some of the sting from the 4-10 overall record.

1965 — Outstanding offensive performances enabled the 49ers to jump from the bottom to fourth place in the Western Division as the team led the NFL in both scoring and total offense. John Brodie was the most productive passer in the NFL, Dave Parks led the league in receiving and rookie Ken Willard and veteran John David Crow, acquired in an off-season trade, led a strong ground game. The over-all record was 7-6-1 and the season-opening 52-24 beating of the Chicago Bears marked the largest number of points ever scored by the 49ers in NFL play.

1966 — After a somewhat slow start, the 49ers got in gear just before midway in the season and became one of only two teams to beat the eventual World Champion Green Bay Packers. After that, they rolled to a respectable 6-6-2 record and were in the battle for second place in the Western Division until the final league game. Guard John Thomas and end Dave Parks were all-pro, and they joined guard Howard Mudd, center Bruce Bosley, fullback Ken Willard and linebacker Dave Wilcox in the Pro Bowl.

1967 — An auspicious start (they were 5-1) disintegrated into disappointment for the 49ers as injuries took a heavy toll and a six-game losing streak took them out of the running. Quarterback George Mira came off the bench to lead the squad to two season-ending victories and salvage a 7-7 record. There were bright spots however, as, with John Brodie in fine form, the 49ers were the only team to beat the power-laden Rams in a league game, guard Howard Mudd and linebacker Dave Wilcox were named to all-pro teams, and Mudd and center Bruce Bosley played in the Pro Bowl for the second straight time.

1968 — Under new coach Dick Nolan, the 49ers posted a 7-6-1 record as the season turned on key wins over New York Giants, 26-10, and Green Bay, 27-20. Brilliant performances by QB John Brodie, receiver Clifton McNeil and running back Ken Willard led a prolific offense, while defensive tackle Charlie Krueger, linebacker Dave Wilcox and defensive back Kermit Alexander, sparked a revitalized defense. McNeil and guard Howard Mudd were chosen All-NFL, and joined by Wilcox, Willard and Alexander in the Pro Bowl.

1969 — Beset by injuries that nearly decimated the defensive unit, the 49ers struggled through the early part of the season, went five games before beating Baltimore, the first time they had done that in 13 previous games. It got a little better after that (final record was 4-8-2) and five players — Jimmy Johnson, Dave Wilcox, Elmer Collett, Ken Willard and rookie Gene Washington — were selected for the Pro Bowl. Johnson was also all-pro and winner of the Eshmont Award.

1970 — This was the greatest year since the club became a member of the NFL in 1950. The 10-3 record was the best as an NFL club, the Western Division (NFC) Championship was the first in the NFL. In a season of superlatives, John Brodie was the NFL's "Player of the Year," Bruce Taylor was NFC "Rookie of the Year," Coach Dick Nolan was a near-unanimous choice as NFC "Coach of the Year." Brodie, receiver Gene Washington, linebacker Dave Wilcox and cornerback Jimmy Johnson were all-pro and joined by tackle Len Rohde in being selected for the Pro Bowl.

1971 — The 49ers forged a 9-5-0 record and won their second consecutive NFC Western Division title, clinching the crown on the final day by beating Detroit, 31-27, the identical score by which the Lions had knocked the 49ers out of championship play in the bitterly-remembered 1957 game. The season was also the club's first in its plush new home, Candlestick Park. Center Forrest Blue, linebacker Dave Wilcox and cornerback Jimmy Johnson were all-pro and joined in the Pro Bowl by Ted Kwalick, Gene Washington, Vic Washington, Cedrick Hardman and Bruce Taylor.

1972 — Early-season inconsistency compounded by an injury to John Brodie in the fifth game of the season cast appall on 49er prospects for a third-straight NFC Western Division title, but Steve Spurrier stepped in for Brodie and turned things around with a brilliant, poised performance. In the final quarter of the final game the recovered Brodie relieved Spurrier and threw two TD passes for a 20-17 win over Minnesota that clinched divisional title No. 3, but Spurrier's nine-game contribution was the key. Center Forrest Blue, defensive back Jimmy Johnson, tight end Ted Kwalick, wide receiver Gene Washington and linebacker Dave Wilcox were all-pro selections.

1973 — In what was both a disappointing and significant year, the 49ers were 5-9 after tackling the NFL's toughest schedule and falling victim to a rash of key injuries and an unsettled quarterback situation. It also marked the end of the brilliant careers of quarterback John Brodie and defensive tackle Charlie Krueger, both of whom retired at year's end. Center Forrest Blue and Dave Wilcox were all-pro and joined in the Pro Bowl by Ted Kwalick, Woody Peoples and Tom Wittum.

1974 — The 49ers used five different quarterbacks after an injury to starter Steve Spurrier a week before the season opened sidelined him for most of the year. After winning the first two games the club lost a team record seven straight and then closed with a rush, winning four of the last five games to finish the season at 6-8. Running back Wilbur Jackson was named The Sporting News "Rookie of the Year" and was named to the NFL All-Rookie team along with quarterback Tom Owen and defensive back Mike Holmes. Center Forrest Blue and punter Tom Wittum were All-NFC and selected for the Pro Bowl along with Jimmy Johnson. A knee injury forced perennial all-pro linebacker Dave Wilcox to retire after a brilliant 11-year career with the 49ers.

1975 — A strong defensive performance throughout the season couldn't offset an erratic offense troubled by an unsettled quarterback situation and a rebuilding offensive line. High point of the 5-9 season was a 24-23 win over Los Angeles to end a 10-game losing streak to the Rams. At season's end, defensive end Cedrick Hardman was the club's only all-pro selection and only player chosen for the Pro Bowl. Jimmy Johnson became the club's first-ever two-time Eshmont Award winner.

1976 — A turnaround year for the 49ers as the team, under coach Monte Clark, posted an 8-6 record, their first winning season since 1972. With new quarterback Jim Plunkett at the controls, the 49ers got off to their best start ever, 6-1, before hitting a mid-season four-game losing streak that knocked the club out of playoff contention. The season saw the emergence of a powerful defensive unit that led the league in quarterback sacks with 61. Delvin Williams set a 49ers single-season rushing record with his 1,203 yards on the ground. Tommy Hart was named all-pro and played in the Pro Bowl along with Williams, Cleveland Elam, and Dave Washington. Center Randy Cross was an All-Rookie team selection. Tommy Hart became a two-time winner of the Eshmont Award and Cornerback Jimmy Johnson retired after a brilliant 16-year career with the 49ers.

1977 — In the 32nd year of their existence, the 49ers began an all new era. On March 31, 1977, the club became the property of Edward J. DeBartolo, Jr. and came under the guidance of Joe Thomas as general manager. The changeover was made more dramatic because the San Francisco 49ers were one of the few NFL franchises which had never previously changed ownership or location. On the field, under Coach Ken Meyer, the 49ers ran hot and cold. The club lost its first five games, then won five of the next six before dropping the final three contests for a 5-9 record overall. Strong safety Mel Phillips was named winner of the coveted Eshmont Award. Cleveland Elam was selected all-pro and played for the NFC team in the Pro Bowl.

1978 — The 49ers suffered through their longest season as the club fell to 2-14 in '78 and three coaches were hired and fired in less than 12 months. First, Pete McCulley departed after nine games with a 1-8 record, and his replacement, Fred O'Connor, was let go at the end of the year as the team won just one of its final seven contests. Bill Walsh was hired as the new Coach and General Manager on January 9, 1979, replacing O'Connor as coach and Joe Thomas as General Manager. Running back Paul Hoyer, who replaced acclaimed O.J. Simpson when the newly-acquired star went to the sidelines for the year with a shoulder injury, was named recipient of the Len Eshmont Award.

1979 — The 49ers suffered through their second consecutive 2-14 season, but there were several indications of improvement. San Francisco went from virtually the worst ranked offensive team in the league in '78 to one of the most productive offensive units in the NFL in '79, ranking first in passing offense in the NFC and sixth in total offense in the NFL. Running back Paul Hoyer again was the Len Eshmont Award recipient and individual leader, racking up 615 yards rushing and an additional 662 yards receiving on 58 catches in only seven starts. Quarterback Steve DeBerg broke Fran Tarkenton's NFL record for completions by connecting on 347 passes. Kicker Ray Wersching set a club record 83.3 field goal percentage, also leading the league with that mark. No 49ers were named to the Pro Bowl squad. O.J. Simpson retired from the 49ers and the NFL, finishing as the second leading rusher of all time with 11,236 yards.

1980 — In their second season of the Bill Walsh era, the 49ers showed gradual improvement in their rebuilding program. A three-game winning streak to open the season, combined with a three-game victory string from Week 12 through Week 14 enabled the Niners to post a 6-10 season, tripling the number of victories from each of the previous two 2-14 campaigns. Week 14 was a day when the 49ers made NFL history. That Dec. 7 in Candlestick Park, the 49ers overcame a 35-7 halftime deficit to the New Orleans Saints to win in overtime, 38-35. The 28-point comeback was the biggest points-margin-comeback in NFL history. Randy Cross at guard and Freddie Solomon as a punt returner were All-NFC selections by Pro Football Weekly. In addition, linebacker Bobby Leopold, defensive end Jim Stuckey and punter Jim Miller were named to All-Rookie teams, while another rookie, fullback Earl Cooper, led the NFC in receptions with a team-record 83, the most catches ever by an NFL rookie. Dwight Clark caught 82 passes to break the team wide receiver mark, and Joe Montana set the club passing percentage record at .645 with 176 completions in 273 attempts.

1981 — It was a year of firsts and bests for the 49ers in 1981. In his third season as head coach and general manager, Bill Walsh guided San Francisco to: a 16-3 record (best 1981 record in the league, fourth best in NFL history, and best ever for the 49ers), the NFC Western Division title (first since '72), the NFC Championship crown (first ever for the 49ers), and the World Championship/Super Bowl XVI win (first ever for the 49ers). Walsh was named to every possible NFC Coach-of-the-Year award and to all seven NFL Coach-of-the-Year honors, while six 49ers were named to the Pro Bowl — Dwight Clark, Randy Cross, Joe Montana, Fred Dean, Ronnie Lott, and Dwight Hicks. Three San Francisco players were selected to all-pro teams as recognized by the NFL — Cross, Lott and Dean. Montana, who led the NFC in passing in '81, was named MVP of Super Bowl XVI (for leading his team to a 26-21 win over the Cincinnati Bengals of the AFC). Dean was picked UPI NFL Defensive Player-of-the-Year, NFL Outstanding Defensive Lineman-of-the-Year (NFL Players Association), and NFC Defensive Player-of-the-Year (Kansas City Committee of the 101). San Francisco opened and closed the season in Pontiac, Mich., in drastically different styles. The 49ers lost two of their first three games of 1981, including that season opener on the road against Detroit, then ran off seven wins — before a loss to Cleveland 15-12 — and ran off eight more wins (including the playoffs, the NFC Championship, and Super Bowl XVI). The 49ers won 15 of their last 16 games, beat five opponents twice — including all three postseason foes — and became the first team since Chicago in 1945-46-47 to go from the worst NFL record (2-14 in 1979) to the league's best (13-3 in '81) in just three seasons. All this happened with three rookies (Carlton Williamson, Eric Wright, and Lott) starting in the defensive secondary. Those three rookies, along with Montana, Clark, Cross, Freddie Solomon, and Hicks, combined with "old veterans" Dean and Jack "Hacksaw" Reynolds to form a nucleus of world championship vintage.

1982 — The defending world champions — the San Francisco 49ers — did not enjoy the 1982 season . . . but then, not many NFL fans, coaches and players throughout the league did either (except maybe in Washington, where the Redskins were Super Bowl XVII champs). The Niners fell to 3-6 and missed out on the playoffs in the strike-shortened season. San Francisco went winless at home (0-5) but did manage a 3-1 road record (the Niners were 0-2 prior to the 57-day players' strike and 3-4 following it). Dwight Clark had an outstanding season, leading the NFL with 60 receptions and being named consensus all-pro (and NFL Player-of-the-Year by Sports Illustrated). Keena Turner (2nd team all-pro), Ronnie Lott (Pro Bowl), Randy Cross (Pro Bowl), Dwight Hicks (Pro Bowl), Keith Fahnhorst, and Joe Montana (NFL record for five straight +300-yard passing games) were bright spots in an otherwise disappointing season.

1983 — For the second time in three seasons, San Francisco played in the NFC Championship Game . . . and almost returned to the Super Bowl. The '83 49ers were 10-6 (3rd best regular season victory total in club history) and Western Division Champions (5th time since 1970, 2nd time since 1981). In the playoffs, San Francisco squeezed past Detroit, 24-23, but lost to Washington, 24-21, in the NFC Championship contest. Individual standouts included: Joe Montana (the League's No. 1 all-time QB entering the 1984 season), Ronnie Lott (making his third Pro Bowl appearance in as many years), Fred Dean (leading the NFC in sacks with 17½), Dwaine Board (second in sacks with 13), Eric Wright (team leader in interceptions with seven . . . two for scores), Dwight Clark (team leader with 70 receptions and eight TDs), Freddie Solomon (club record 21.4 yards per catch), Ray Wersching (team record 126 points, including a perfect 51 of 51 PATs), offensive linemen Randy Cross, Keith Fahnhorst, and John Ayers, running backs Roger Craig

(752 yards rushing, 427 receiving) and Wendell Tyler (856 rushing yards, 285 receiving), and NFL All-Rookie Team pick Riki Ellison (two interceptions in the playoffs).

1984 — The 49ers experienced the most successful regular season in NFL history by winning a League record 15 games, including all eight road contests — setting yet another NFL standard. The Niners broke 14 team records in '84, while becoming the first NFC team to sweep all of its conference games, and the first NFC West unit to win all contests within the division. Led by Roger Craig and Joe Montana, San Francisco capped the year by routing the Miami Dolphins in Super Bowl XIX, 38-16. The win was the 18th victory of the '84 campaign, establishing an NFL standard for wins in a single season (including playoffs). San Francisco scored 30-or-more points in 10 games on its way to a team-record 475 points. The 49ers defense was the stingiest in the NFL in '84, allowing a League low 227 points scored. The play of the Niners special teams was exciting and inspired . . . the units ranked among the League leaders in most coverage categories. Honors were numerous, including Pro Bowl recognition for 10 of Bill Walsh's charges — Joe Montana, Wendell Tyler, Keith Fahnhorst, Randy Cross, and Fred Quillian on offense and Dwight Hicks, Ronnie Lott, Carlton Williamson, and Eric Wright (the entire Niners' secondary); and Keena Turner on defense.

1985 — At 10-6, San Francisco qualified for postseason play for the fourth time since 1981. The Niners won seven of their last nine games, climaxing with a come-from-behind victory over the Dallas Cowboys (in the regular season finale) to secure a spot in postseason action. Offensively, Roger Craig and Jerry Rice emerged as potent weapons in the attack. Craig became the first NFL player to surpass 1,000 yards rushing and receiving in the same season. Rice was named NFC Rookie-of-the-Year and set the team record for first-year players with 927 receiving yards. The defense experienced the influx of four new starters in '85 (NT Michael Carter, LB Todd Shell, LB Michael Walter, and DE John Harly), and a position switch between Ronnie Lott and Dwight Hicks. Carter won a berth on the Pro Bowl team, as did defensive backs Eric Wright and Carlton Williamson.

1986 — The 49ers captured their fourth NFC Western Division title since 1981.

Offensively, the team was led by all-pro wide receiver Jerry Rice, who paced the NFL with 1,570 receiving yards and 15 touchdowns. Those marks established club standards in addition to Rice's team-record 16 total scores.

The defense managed 49 takeaways, tying the Kansas City Chiefs for NFL leadership. San Francisco's 39 interceptions and 578 return yards set team records, while five scores on pick-off returns tied another club mark. Ronnie Lott tied Dave Baker's 1960 team record with 10 interceptions.

The output by young players was vital due to major injuries suffered by many starting veterans. San Francisco made 20 roster moves during the season, shuffling players in and out of action. Quarterback Joe Montana missed Weeks 2-9 due to back surgery, for example, while backup signal-caller Jeff Kemp did not play Weeks 8-11 due to a hip injury.

1987 — The San Francisco 49ers marched to an NFL regular season-best 13-2 record. It marked a league-leading third time in the decade of the '80s that the team either tied or posted the best won-loss percentage during the regular season. San Francisco led the NFL with 5,987 total yards, and was best among League defenders allowing 4,095 total yards. It was the first time in Niners' history that the team led the League in fewest total yards allowed.

Spectacular individual performances punctuated the Niners' play in '87. Jerry Rice experienced a season that was unparalleled in NFL annals. He set NFL records with 23 receiving touchdowns and scoring by reception in 13 consecutive games. Rice's 138 points were the most scored by a non-kicker since John Riggins chalked up 144 points on an NFL-record 24 touchdowns in 1983. The durable wide-out received postseason Most Valuable Player awards from nearly every news agency and sports publication.

Joe Montana won the first NFL passing title of his nine-year career and set a team record with 31 touchdown passes. Ronnie Lott tied with Don Griffin for team leadership with five interceptions. Lott, Montana and Rice were joined by nose tackle Michael Carter and running back Roger Craig on the NFC squad in the 1988 Pro Bowl.

Maybe it's time you had one for your telecommunications system.

Imagine what it would look like if a football team decided to "wing it" out there on the field without a game plan.

Well, that's exactly what many companies do when it comes to planning and designing telecommunications systems. The results are costly.

That's where we come into play. You see, we can show you the most cost effective way to handle your voice, data, networking and office automation needs.

Isn't it time you had a game plan for your telecommunications system? Your GTEL account manager will be glad to help you draw one up. Call us at 1-800-237-GTEL.
